

Data Usage Addendum

Effective Date: May 1, 2026

This Data Usage Addendum (this “Addendum”) supplements any master subscription agreement, master services agreement, terms of service, order form, quote, proposal, statement of work, service addendum, or other purchasing document between Innergy, Inc. or its applicable affiliate (“INNERGY”) and the customer identified in the applicable purchasing document (“Customer”) that references or incorporates this Addendum (the “Agreement”). This version of the Addendum applies to any Agreement or applicable order form, quote, proposal, statement of work, service addendum, or other purchasing document executed or accepted on or after the Effective Date set forth above for the Term of the Agreement, unless the parties expressly agree otherwise in writing.

Capitalized terms used but not defined in this Addendum have the meanings given to them in the Agreement.

In addition to the rights set forth in the applicable Agreement, and as part of the parties’ agreement governing the products and services described in the applicable order form, quote, proposal, statement of work, service addendum, or other purchasing document, Customer grants INNERGY a non-exclusive, worldwide, royalty-free license to collect, retain, use, and process data arising from or related to Customer’s use of the applicable platform, software, or services, including usage patterns, feature interaction data, technical performance information, purchase order and transactional data, and other data submitted, generated, or otherwise provided by Customer to INNERGY in connection with the products, services, or the parties’ business relationship (collectively, “Platform Data”), to operate, maintain, support, and improve INNERGY’s products, services, and technologies, including the development and improvement of machine learning and artificial intelligence capabilities, and to generate analytics, benchmarks, and other insights, including on an aggregated or deidentified basis where applicable and in combination with data from other customers or third-party sources.

INNERGY retains all right, title, and interest in Platform Data and any aggregated, deidentified, or derived data, models, or outputs generated from the foregoing, and may retain and use such data and outputs following termination or expiration of the applicable Agreement. By executing or accepting the applicable order form, quote, proposal, statement of work, service addendum, or other purchasing document, Customer expressly authorizes the foregoing uses of Platform Data.
